BACHELOR INTERNATIONAL

Hochschule Biberach.

The focus is on expanding intercultural competencies and building global connections.

Studies

Students of all bachelor's degree programs can spend a full academic year abroad. This includes combining a study and internship semester, gaining valuable international experience, and developing intercultural competencies.

Study structure

At the end of the 2nd semester, you decide whether to join the program. During the 3rd and 4th semesters, you prepare for your stay abroad with intercultural training, language courses, and lectures in English. Depending on your degree program, you will complete your stay abroad between the 5th and 7th semesters at a partner university and in a company abroad. Upon returning to Biberach University of Applied Sciences, you will participate in international workshops and become a mentor for incoming exchange students.

Your path

You will spend a total of one year abroad, either deepening your area of study or choosing additional courses to broaden your interdisciplinary qualifications. Abroad, you will work in international teams and prepare yourself for your future career. In this way, you will become part of our international community.

Funding opportunities

Financial support through scholarships is possible. For more information, please contact the International Office at Biberach University of Applied Sciences.
